Organised by: Department of Chemistry, Sikkim Government College, Namchi

The Department of Chemistry, Sikkim Government College, Namchi, organized a “Gardening Cum Beautification Day” on 27th February within the departmental premises and garden area. The programme was conducted with the objective of promoting cleanliness, environmental awareness, and aesthetic enhancement of the department. Faculty members, non-teaching staff, and students actively participated in the event.

Cleanliness Drive Conducted at the Department Premises

The programme commenced with a cleanliness drive inside the department. Participants were divided into groups and assigned specific areas such as classrooms, laboratories, corridors, departmental library, and office rooms.

The activities undertaken included:

- Sweeping and mopping of floors
- Dusting of furniture, windows, and shelves
- Proper arrangement of laboratory equipment and books
- Disposal of waste materials and unwanted items
- Affixed informational posters in prominent areas of the department.

The initiative resulted in a cleaner, more organized, and hygienic academic environment.

Beautification of the Departmental Garden

Following the indoor cleaning activities, participants undertook the beautification of the departmental garden. The focus was on restoring the greenery and enhancing the visual appeal of the surroundings.

The activities carried out included:

- Removal of weeds and dried leaves
- Trimming of hedges and shrubs
- Collection and disposal of waste materials and unwanted items

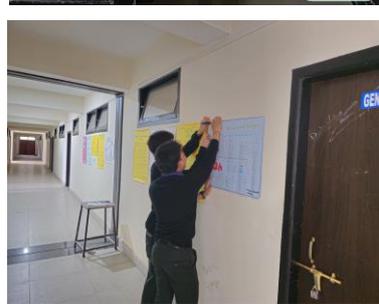

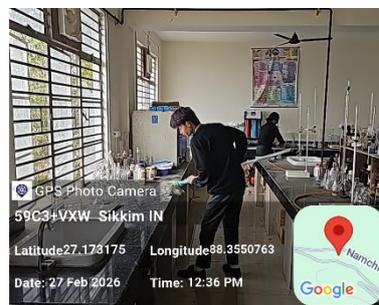

The garden area was significantly improved and presented a refreshing and vibrant appearance.

Objectives of the Programme

1. To promote cleanliness and hygiene within the department.
2. To create awareness about environmental protection and sustainability.
3. To encourage teamwork and collective responsibility among students and staff.
4. To enhance the aesthetic appeal of the departmental surroundings.

Conclusion

The “Gardening Cum Beautification Day” was successfully conducted with enthusiastic participation from faculty members, staff, and students. The programme not only improved the cleanliness and beauty of the department but also instilled a sense of responsibility and environmental consciousness among the participants.
