

Report on World Environment Day Celebration – 2026

Organized by the Department of Education, Sikkim Government College, Namchi

Date: 5th June 2026

Venue: College Campus, SGC Namchi

Introduction

The Department of Education, Sikkim Government College, Namchi, in collaboration with the college, celebrated World Environment Day on 5th June 2026 with active participation from students and faculty members. The programme aimed to promote environmental awareness and encourage sustainable practices through educational and practical activities.

Objectives of the Programme

The key objectives of the celebration were:

- To create awareness about the significance of World Environment Day.
- To educate students on current environmental challenges and conservation measures.
- To instill environmental responsibility and sustainable habits among students.
- To promote practical involvement through plantation and cleanliness activities.
- To encourage environmental ethics and strengthen the college's green culture.

Programme Highlights

The programme began with an address by Dr. Kriti Gurung, Head of the Department of Education, who highlighted the importance of environmental conservation and outlined the activities planned for the day.

Students and faculty members then participated in a plantation and cleanliness drive in the departmental garden and classroom. The activity provided hands-on experience in environmental stewardship while promoting teamwork, dignity of labour, and a sense of responsibility toward the surroundings.

Conclusion

The celebration successfully combined environmental awareness with practical action, encouraging students and faculties to adopt sustainable practices and contribute towards environmental conservation. The Department of Education remains committed to organizing similar initiatives that foster environmental responsibility and community engagement.
