

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

A REPORT ON OBSERVATION OF “WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY” 2026

Date: 05/06/2026

The students of IV & II semester along with faculties of the department actively participated in the cleaning of the departmental garden and also planted new saplings in the garden. The students came with the saplings and gardening tools whereas five saplings were provided by the NCC of the college. The main highlight of today's activity was the responsibility given to few students to plant a new sapling wherein a name plate was placed with their name and semester.

World environment Day serves as a reminder that protecting the environment is a shared responsibility. Today's activity encouraged the students to take positive action towards environmental conservation and sustainable living.

The responsibility was successfully completed in a disciplined and coordinated manner. The experience was both productive and meaningful, further, strengthening the departmental bond.

HOD

Department of Sociology

